

David Walker
Director, Local Government and Infrastructure
PricewaterhouseCoopers

David joined PricewaterhouseCoopers as a Director in 2007, after a long executive career with New Zealand's largest local government unit, Auckland City Council. During this time he managed many projects both within Auckland City Council and across the sector. David was recruited to direct the firm's newly established local government and infrastructure strategic initiatives.

