Kensington Swan

Paul Buetow is the Business Unit Director of Kensington Swan's Infrastructure business unit and is a partner in the specialist construction team. Paul's client base is broad, stretching from government and local authorities to developers, major contractors and industry organisations dealing with a wide range of infrastructure issues. He provides specialist advice on major infrastructure standard and specialist contracts, including NZS 3910, FIDIC, NEC 3, Alliance Contracts and PPPs. Paul assists entities with procurement and risk management.

A member of the Executive of the Auckland Branch of the New Zealand Contractors' Federation, Paul has recently co-authored a detailed 70-page report on 'Infrastructure Development in Comparative Nations - Insights for New Zealand'. This report was prepared with the Chief Executive of NZCID, Stephen Selwood. The conclusions were presented discussed with Government Ministers, Crown Entities and Local Authorities.
